

A bit of information about this website - how it works.

This is not a complex site with deep menus and links; no part of it is far from any other part, and it is all accessible from the menu at left.

The Menus on the left direct you to different sections containing articles, photos or calendar events. You can use your browser's "back" button at any stage to return to a previous page.

Sometimes clicking on a link will open a new page as a tab, rather than in a new window. You can choose to navigate from this new tab, to select another tab to continue, or to close the tab.
